Plaintiff, Yolonda Chrystal

vs.

CIV - 14 - 967 L

Defendant, U.S. Foods

COMPLAINT

The defendant unlawfully retaliated against me, for being involved in a class action law suit against defendant, for not hiring blacks and women. I was placed in the coldest and hardest area to pull orders, resulting in a on-the-job injury, and denied reasonable requested accommodations.

The defendant wrongfully terminated me, I was laid off due to on the job injury and being placed on sedentary restrictions. The defendant stated per company policy after 90 day of light duty, an employee goes home on T.T.D. until released by doctor. Other injured associates were not laid off under company policy after 90 days. After I was released to work by Dr. I was informed by defendant, she would not allow me to return because I was pregnant. Defendant also violated Company Policy by not paying T.T.D. payments. The defendant refusing to allow me to return to work due to pregnancy, but did not provide modified task, alternative assignments, disability or unpaid leave, or FMLA. The defendant maliciously stopped T.T.D. payments without a court order, forcing me to close workers' comp case. The defendant continue malicious acts against me, by tampering with legal court documents, falsifying dates and forging judges signature, then voluntarily sent false document to D.H.S. Tanif worker so I would be denied government assistance after I delivered my babies. Try to force me to accept the settlement after and drop charges with E.E.O.C.
